

Dr. Craig Woodson Connects Students To World Music: Combining Global Cultures, History, Science, Humor And Simple Instrument Making

In 4 Fun-Filled, Educational, Interactive K-8 Assemblies. Workshops, Too!

"Dr. Woodson is one of the most popular artists we have brought to the school due to his musical artistry and knowledge, his enthusiasm and his humor."

Principal, Community Magnet Elementary, Los Angeles

1. "A World Orchestra You Can Build" Assembly – Explore the magical world of homemade musical instruments where students interactively learn about diverse cultures, the science of sound, and the origins of music, all based on academic and VAPA standards.

2. Plus Three More Assemblies Drum Lessons from Around the World; Adowa - African Drumming and Dance from Ghana; and To Mars with Music in 2030.

3. "Make Your Own Horn and Toot It!" Workshops

Students enjoy making & playing one of Craig's grade-appropriate musical instruments, for example his African talking drum or his unique 'Drumpet' - a combination drum, trumpet, guitar, and scraper.

"Dr. Woodson held all students' attention throughout. He was fun and informative."

Teacher, Meadow Park Elementary, Irvine

"Along with his percussion skills and his extensive knowledge of music and cultures, Dr. Woodson brings a positive energy to his work. He is warm and engaging, making the content accessible across grade levels." Executive Director, International House of Blues Foundation
